Services

Print media

The library of the University of Liechtenstein is part of the Liechtenstein Library Network, as well as other libraries relevant for students and academic staff, e.g. the Liechtenstein National Library or the Liechtenstein-Institute. The Liechtenstein Catalogue lists more than 190'000 resources.

The holdings of the University Library contain 17'000 books, 3'400 theses and 65 journals and magazines.

E-resources

The University of Liechtenstein subscribes to a large selection of e-resources.

Students and academic staff have online access to 21 databases for scholarly research in the disciplines of Business Sciences, Information Technologies, Law and Sociology. The library provides more than 7'000 e-books (via Springer Link, Elgar online etc.), which are recorded in the Liechtenstein Catalogue. About 5'000 e-journals are also available. Furthermore, you find over 45'000 documents for the fields of study at the University in the Ebook Central Library. These e-books can be downloaded for a certain loan period.

Access to the online databases is only possible within the campus network for employees or students of the University of Liechtenstein. For the electronic procurements of the SIA standards use the computer at the premises of the Institute of Architecture and Planning provided for this purpose.

Primo Metasearch

With Primo Metasearch you are able to search the University Library's print books and many online documents (ebooks, articles and more) using a single search. In addition, Primo includes full text documents of open access items. Launch the search from the library homepage.

Study space

The library provides the ideal and quiet environment for working and studying: 24 individual study spaces (including network sockets for laptops), 4 public access computer workstations, Self-check and Search terminal in the entrance area, free WIFI and a multifunction terminal (photocopier/printer/scanner systems). A small reading lounge is situated nearby the cafeteria.

Using the library

Registration

Students of the University of Liechtenstein are automatically registered when starting the studies. The student card is also the library card.

Lending procedure

The loan period for books is 14 calendar days, the maximal loan period is 12 weeks after 5 automatic renewals of another 2 weeks each, unless there is a hold request on the item by another user. A single loan of 7 days is possible for print journals. There is no limit of items for loan per user.

Reference holdings and works, temporary reserve collections are excluded from loan. Many books of the holdings of the research libraries can be made available upon request.

At the end of the loan period the user will receive a free recall or a reminder by e-mail. Should the user still fail to return the borrowed items, the library will charge as follows:

1st overdue notice (by email)	CHF 5.00 per item
2nd overdue notice (by letter mail)	an additional CHF 10.00 per item
3rd overdue notice (by letter mail)	an additional CHF 15.00 per item
