Design Seminar – Jerusalem

Source: IBTimes / Barrier in Shuafat Refugee Camp

The Design Seminar will take us closer to the city and culture of Jerusalem. The program will be based on a series of tours in and around the city of Jerusalem, providing meetings and interaction with local communities, stakeholders, non-governmental and governmental organizations. Tours will be guided by experts in the complex urban condition of the city.

The focus on borderlines will be further developed, by analysing different sites with this particular situation, where architecture and urban solutions play a primordial role in the relation between the different communities.

The concentration of knowledge will be widened by the interaction with students and professors from the partner universities. We will do a workshop to summarize the experiences and to compare the points of view from a local and an external perspective.
